

DAUBERT AIDS MATES BY STOPPING ERRORS

Jake Daubert, Captain and First Baseman of Brooklyn Dodgers.

In Jake Daubert the Brooklyn team has the greatest little animated telescope in baseball today. Six feet one inch in height, the first sacker in the Dodgers' possession can and does snag many a wild toss and still manages to keep his foot on the bag, to the great discomfiture of the batsman trying to get to the initial corner. It takes a mighty wild heave to draw Daubert from the bag.

It is figured that Jake can get a throw nine feet from the bag when the ball comes to the right, stretching his full length and still hooking the station with his toe.

Having to reach across his body with his gloved hand when a ball is thrown to the left of the bag, he naturally loses some distance in nailing these heaves, but he can get those that come within eight feet and two or three inches. Of course, if the worst comes to the worst, the Dodger shoves out his left hand, and, although bare, takes a throw with it, in this way getting the benefit of a nine-foot reach.

When reaching into the diamond for a low heave Daubert has another telescoping stunt to do. Of course he does not have to stretch quite as far to get a low one, for he can judge his ball and take it on the bound if there is time to wait for it.

Going after a high one is one of the best stunts that Daubert pulls. Naturally, when the ball is thrown a mile or two over his roof, he cannot keep his foot on the bag and get it, but he goes up like an aviator after the altitude record and the ball has to be ten feet above the ground to get by him safely.

In 126 games during the season of 1914 Daubert, who is captain of the Brooklyn team as well as its first baseman, hit for the fine average of .329.

WEIGHT LIMIT DISREGARDED

Pugilistic Champions Object to Making Poundage—Gibbons Weighs 145 at Three O'clock.

Pugilistic champions pay just about as much attention to weight limits as the Federal league does to Ban Johnson's threat.

The bantam limit is 116. Kid Williams no longer will agree to weigh in at that figure. About 120 or 121 is more to his liking. And more within his possibilities.

Jehnnny Kilbane, the featherweight champ, won't hop into the ring under 126, although the limit is 122.

Freddie Welsh, lightweight champion of the world, won't do 133 ring-side, the prescribed limit. Willie Ritchie makes 135 and no less.

Mike Gibbons, the acknowledged welterweight champion, won't submit to weighing in at ringside. He'll do

Mike Gibbons.

145 at 3 p. m., and then gain about five pounds between that time and the hour set for the fight.

The middleweight limit is 158. George Chip, leading claimant for the title of that division, will make 158 at 5 p. m., but he won't make it at ringside. His ringside weight is 160 and over.

Starters in Regattas.

According to figures kept by the secretary of the Yacht Racing association of Massachusetts bay, 2,511 racing yachts took part in the 37 open regattas sailed in Massachusetts bay and off Marblehead last summer. On Long Island sound the starters in regattas probably exceeded 3,000 and if Buzzards bay, Narragansett bay and other Long Island sound points are included the number of starters in all regattas between Sandy Hook and Marblehead will number about seven thousand five hundred.

DRINK LOTS OF WATER TO FLUSH THE KIDNEYS

Eat Less Meat and Take Salts for Backache or Bladder Trouble—Neutralize Acids.

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish, ache, and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy; the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them flush off the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad.

Eat less meat, drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble. Adv.

ROAD BUILDING

MACHINE FOR ROAD BUILDING

Useful for Applying Hot Bituminous Binder Under Pressure, Filling Spaces Between Stones.

A recent addition to road building equipment is a gasoline driven machine used for applying the hot bituminous binder under pressure so that it will penetrate and fill the spaces between the stones, says Popular Mechanics. After the first course of stone is laid this machine is run over the roads, discharging the bituminous binder through a series of vertical pipes at the forward end. As soon as the binder has hardened, a second course of stone is laid and rolled, the rolling forcing the two courses into one compact layer. The binder is then applied a second time, and the process is repeated until the road is completed. This process makes it possible to build a compact road with no openings into which water can penetrate. The bituminous binder is carried in the large tank, which has a capacity of 750 gallons. It is heated by steam coils in the tank, the steam being supplied by a flash boiler which is fired by fuel oil. Steam supplied by this boiler is also used for running an air compressor by which the binder is forced into the spaces between the stones.

ROUGH ROADS HURT SCHOOLS

Communities Having Advantage of Improved Highways Can Afford to Build Better Buildings.

That good roads materially affect the county school system has been repeatedly demonstrated. In states where the roads are kept up well the attendance at school is 80 per cent as against 64 per cent in states where the roads are neglected and are in bad condition. Improved roads make it possible to consolidate or centralize the schools and to establish graded schools in the rural districts. Such schools centrally located will accommodate all of the children within a radius of from four to five miles. In many communities having the advantage of good roads, commodious buildings have been provided, more competent teachers have been employed and modern facilities for teaching have been supplied at a minimum cost. There are about two thousand consolidated rural schools in the United States, and it is significant to note that the states that have made the greatest progress in the building and maintenance of good roads have the largest schools. No community can afford not to have good roads and where a few enterprising citizens will take the lead the results can be realized.

TREES ALONG THE ROADSIDES

Many Organizations Have Promised Their Aid to Provide Free Fruit for the Weary Traveler.

Fresh fruit plucked from roadside trees is a pleasure travelers will be able to enjoy several years hence, when they stop for lunch in some shady nook.

In many communities civic associations, farmers' organizations and horticultural societies have promised their aid to provide free roadside fruit for the traveler.

This very pleasant idea was originated by a southern Missouri nursery, which has placed 50,000 apple, peach, pear, plum and cherry trees along the side of the Missouri section of the National Old Trails highway. The fruit will be free to transcontinental motorists.

Help by Using Drag.

Individual farmers can materially help the good roads cause by rigging up a road drag and using it on roads adjacent to the farm when the ground is sufficiently moist.

Harm by Bad Roads.

Muddy roads always add to the distance to market and cut the profits on produce.

Regularity in Feeding.

It is equally as bad to overfeed as it is to underfeed poultry. There should be regular hours for feeding, and never a feast today and a famine tomorrow be allowed. Avoid too much carbonaceous food. Carbon is oil, fat, starch, sugar, etc.—carbonaceous material.

Poorly Fitting Collar.

The horse with a sloping shoulder cannot work with any ease or profit in a collar made for an upright shoulder.

NO ABUSE OF POWER

Charge That President Is a Despot Is Futile.

Republican Press Unable to Point to a Single Instance of Intimidation of a Legislator by the Chief Executive.

Many presidents have purchased support in the house or the senate by the use of patronage. Mr. Wilson's bitterest opponent makes no such charge against him.

Certain presidents have sought to coerce recalcitrant members of congress by publicly attacking them. Mr. Wilson has done nothing like that.

Other presidents have tried to bring hostile senators and representatives into line by holding over their heads the power of the national organization and threatening them with defeat. No such indictment has been brought against Mr. Wilson.

More than one president has been accused of making deals with congressmen by which their support was obtained in consideration of executive approval of legislation in which they were interested. No accusation of that kind has been lodged against Mr. Wilson.

We are assured by a partisan Republican press that the president is a despot who rules the house with an iron hand, and that the senate has been engaged in desperate battle to maintain its independence against usurpation. But when? And how? And where?

What influence has President Wilson ever exerted upon congress except the influence of advice and counsel? What command does he exercise over the Democratic majority in Washington except the command of brain and character?

What member of congress can stand up and say that the president ever tried to intimidate him? What member can say that the president ever promised him anything or threatened him with anything?

What single instance of an abuse of executive power can be charged against President Wilson in his relations with congress? Yet we are asked to believe that he is an autocrat who has stripped the legislative branch of its constitutional prerogatives and made it a machine for registering his imperial decrees.

BUSINESS TIDE HAS TURNED

Increasing Signs That Prosperity Is Spreading in All Parts of the Country.

There are multiplying signs that "the tide has turned," as President Farrell of the steel trust declared last week, and that a marked improvement in the general business situation is to be seen day by day.

The steel trust reports an increase of 411,923 tons in unfilled orders in January, and the number of men employed by it has been increased 25 per cent in that period. The first of the month the Carnegie Steel works resumed full operation, giving employment to between 8,000 and 9,000 men, and the American Steel and Wire company at Pittsburgh has taken on 2,500 more men and is running full time on new orders. The H. C. Frick Coke company has fired 2,500 new ovens within a few days.

From Chicago it is reported that within the last thirty days orders have been placed for $20,000,000 worth of freight and passenger cars, locomotives and railroad materials, not including orders since January 1 for foreign governments. As a single instance, the Pennsylvania railroad has ordered 15,000 cars, costing $12,000,000. Russia alone is reported to have placed orders amounting to $12,000,000 with a Seattle car concern.

The calamity howlers who take comfort in shrieking bad times and the croaking politicians who seek to capitalize commercial disturbance due to the war will soon be without an issue. The prosperity of this country lies not with the pessimists, but with those who act on President Farrell's advice and have "the courage, not of destruction, but of construction."

Good Times Ahead.

As the one great producing country not engaged in war, all the rest of the world looks to the United States for food supplies and manufactures. The only check upon the growing export trade is the difficulty in securing chapters. American goods have been moving abroad so rapidly that foreign exchange is below normal, and the $80,000,000 in gold shipped to Canada last fall for the account of the Bank of England is beginning to flow back in payment for foreign purchases, although gold is the last thing the European powers want to surrender.

Stand With the President.

Senator Cummins of Iowa is supposed to be the political successor of Senator Allison, author of "the Iowa idea," which favors a tariff with protection enough to please all manufacturers, but with schedules so arranged as to satisfy all consumers. In the eyes of such sidesteppers anyone who holds strong and positive views on questions of public policy is a reactionary. Just at present there are a good many such persons, and most of them think very well of President Wilson.
